Foreword . . .

The initial step in the growing stage of a caterpillar, the chrysalis, encompasses that segment in the development of a butterfly in which one sees the larvae of a caterpillar enclosed in a cocoon. Subsequently, it develops to maturity in nine months time, eventually bursting from its confines in the spring with all the color and radiance which mark a new butterfly.

Similarly, the graduating class of 1961 has matured in its "cocoon". Growing physically, morally, and intellectually for the past four years in North Arlington High School, the seniors leave their cocoon and the chrysalis stage with energetic spirits, with fond memories, and with wistful eyes toward the future.

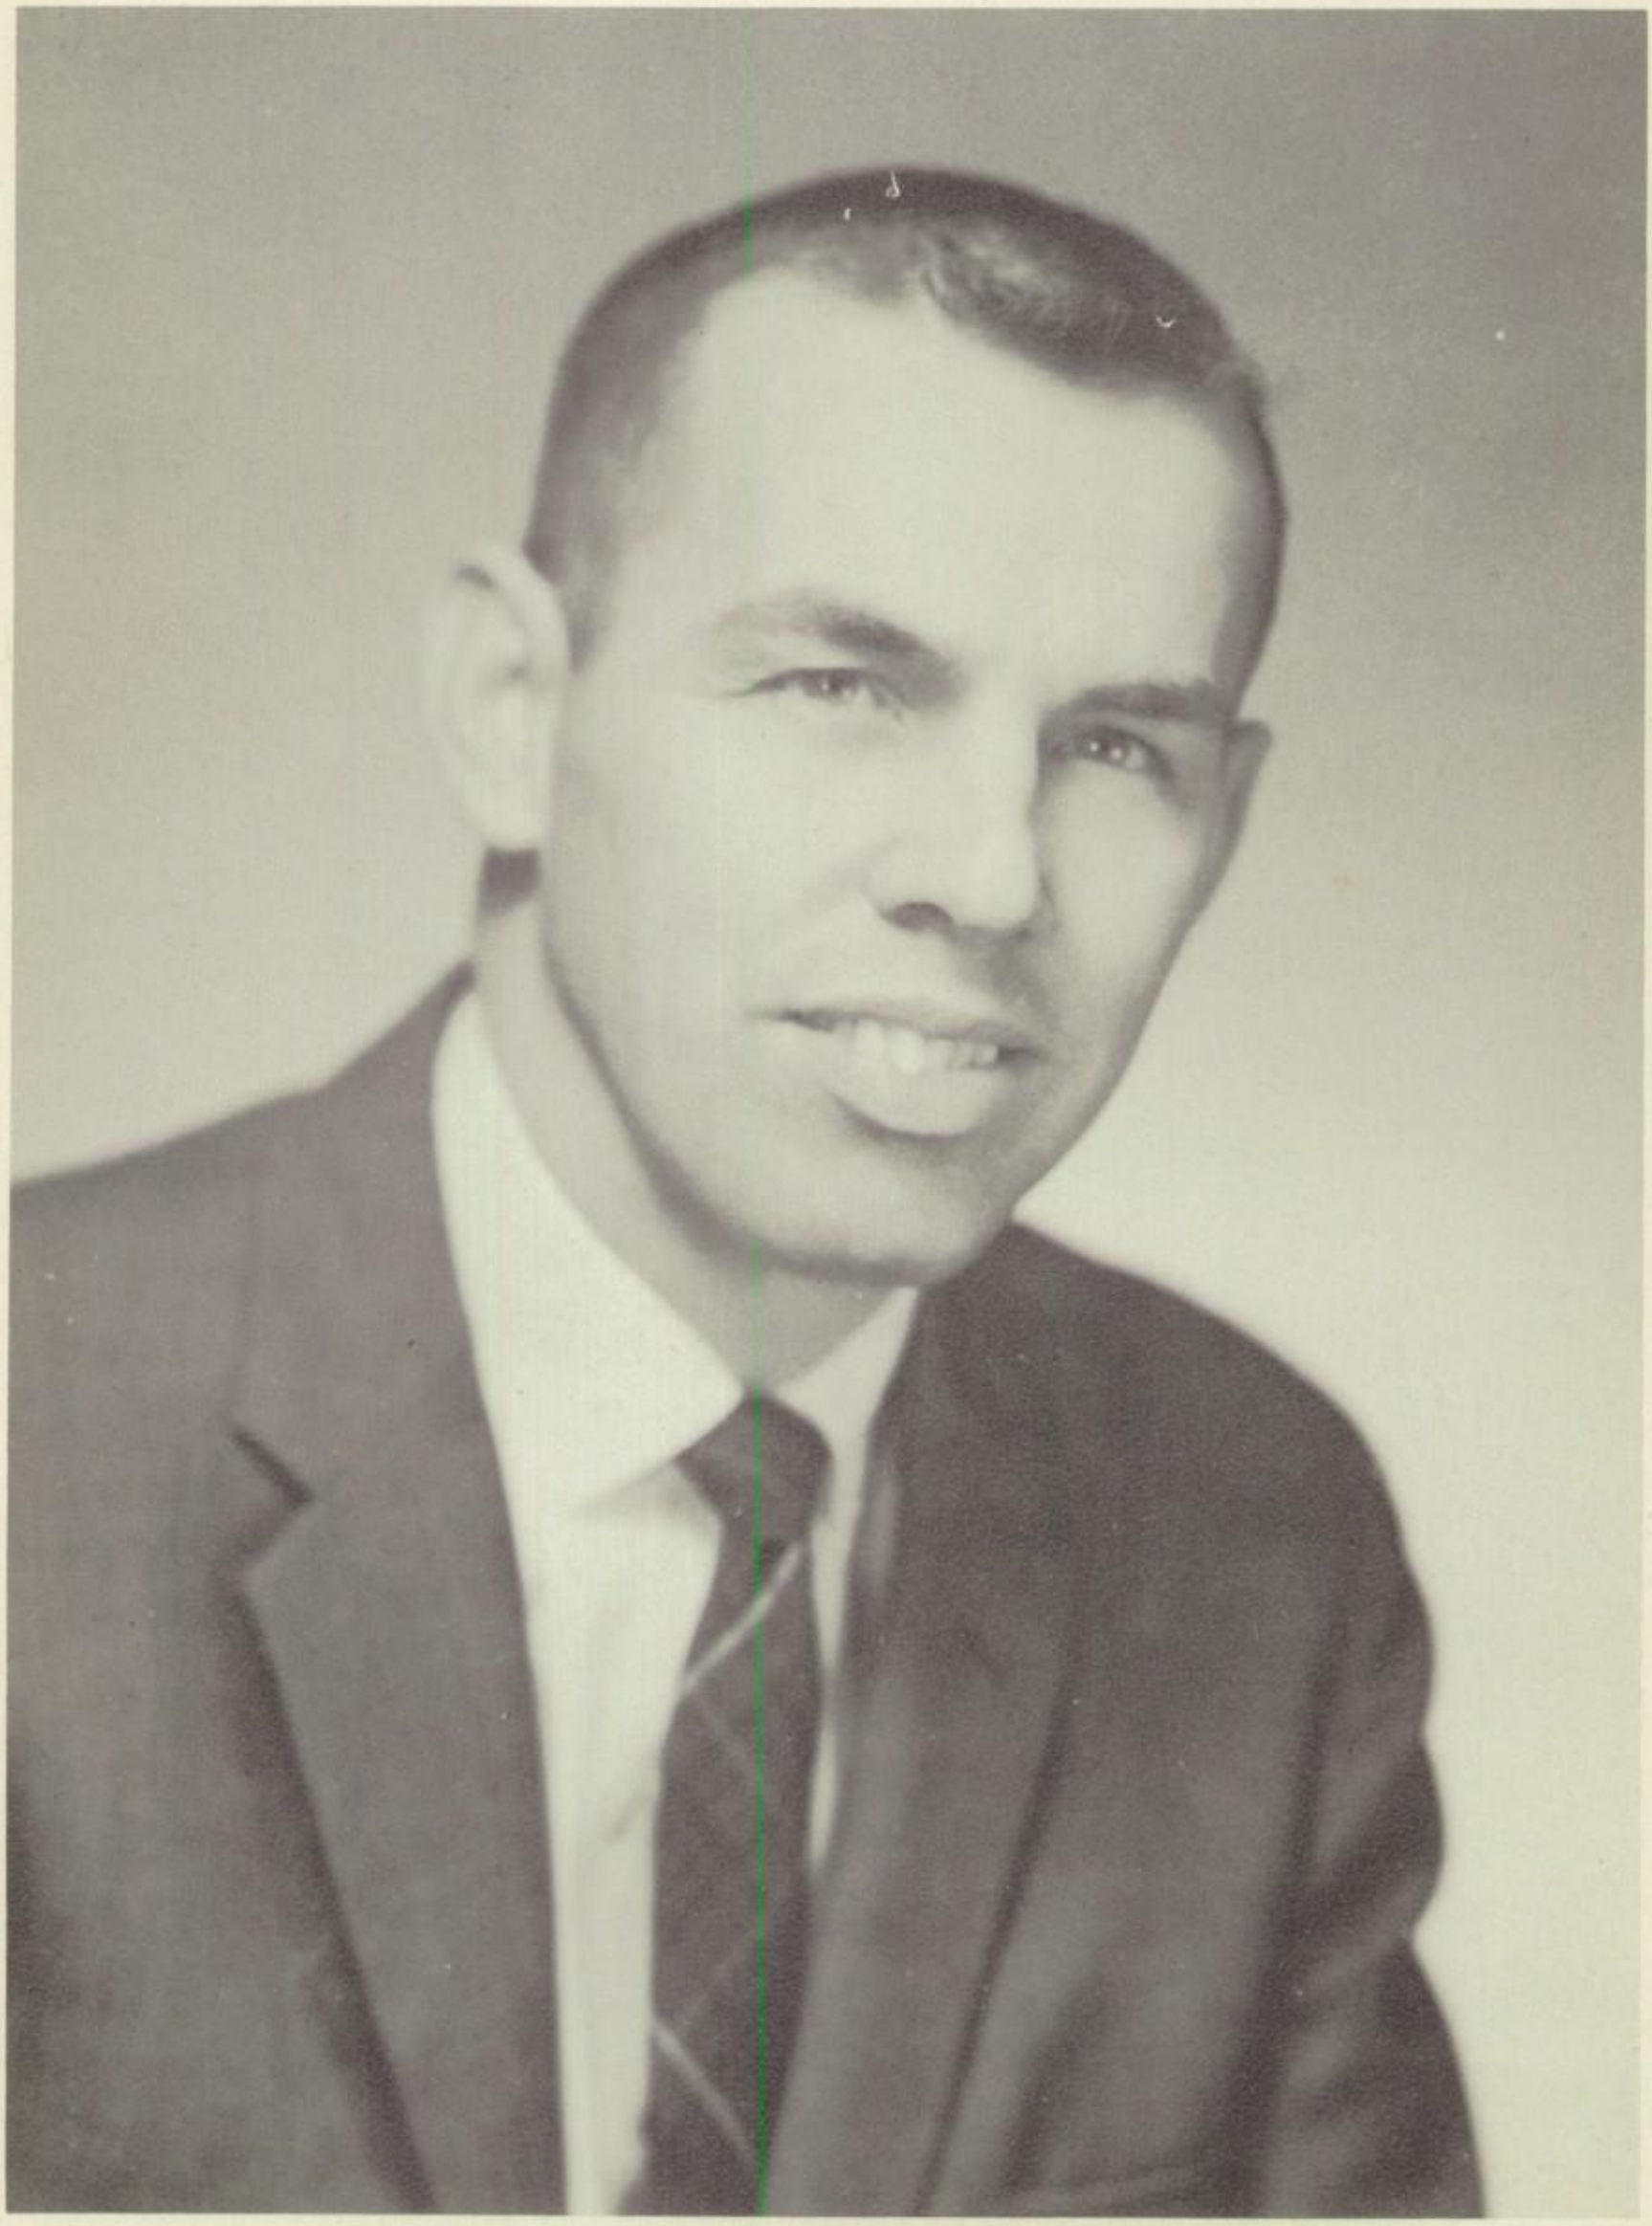
Dedication



A Balanced Equation

A dash of humor + an appealing personality + a unique approach to teaching = the qualities of the remarkable and esteemed teacher to whom our yearbook is dedicated. His contacts with us have brightened our lives, enlightened our minds, and heightened our ambitions. The Senior Class of 1961 gratefully dedicates the Chrysalis to MR. JOHN KAELIN.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

ADMINISTRATION

MRS. MARY DAVIDSON
Principal

Farewell

Dear Seniors,

As you reach the end of your high school years and go out on the serious business of adult living, the North Arlington High School faculty sends with you its very best wishes for your success and happiness.

Yours is not just another graduating class—it is a group of young people who have shared with us the problems of crowded conditions, the inconvenience in scheduling activities, the weathering of the reconstruction era, and, finally, the enjoyment of our new facilities now almost at the point of completion.

You have been magnificent in your cheerful understanding and performance and it has been a pleasure working with you.

May the lessons you have learned here, the attitudes you have developed, the background you have acquired, stand you in good stead as you go out to fulfill your dreams for the years ahead! Come back to see us often, knowing that we join with your parents in wishing for you the best of everything.

Sincerely yours,

Mary E. Davidson
Principal

The years with you in North Arlington have been happy and challenging ones. Your community leaders, school administrators, and teachers have worked cooperatively to plan a curriculum and a building to meet your needs. You have shown your appreciation by the hours you have spent on academic work, extra curricular activities, and service to the school.

My best wishes go to all of you for your future. May each of you realize happiness as you work toward your goals and take your places as worthy citizens in the community of your choice.

Class

As we, the Class of 1961, approach graduation, we pause briefly a few moments reminiscing and reliving the joys and sorrows of the past six years spent at North Arlington High School. Caught in a whirl of crowded hallways and the departmental system of education so strange to us, we started a new life as bewildered seventh graders. As we groped about for our bearings, we found that our boys were already being prepared for their lives as "future homewreckers," when Miss O'Malley organized the Junior Chefs Club. Without any unpleasant incidents, we adjusted shortly to the new regime, only to find that we were beginning to anticipate the fun of being eighth graders.

As eighth graders we established a precedent while enjoying the experience of sponsoring our first class dance Spring Carousel, a highly successful social event. All was bright and colorful including Susan Rosenberg's face when the clean-up committee found her fake pony tail. As eighth graders we grew in stature and importance, for we now had someone in the school who would look up to us, "the little seventh graders," as we called them. Damaging our dignity, of course, were Hank Sorce and Don Betz playing touch football, and causing "Sabie" to replace her broken eyeglasses because of the boys' poor judgment, or their poor eyesight. Under the direction of Mrs. Manning, the Junior High Dramatics Club presented the hilarious play, Sister Sue, starring Elaine Smith, Barbara Hendler, Ron Tornwall, Joanne Scopelliti, Dan Mulcare, Barbara Jorgensen, Jerry Sica, Catherine Jacobson, and Dotty Kostka.

Our freshman year, 1957-1958, brought new responsibilities under the leadership of class officers:

President: Richard Bruzza
Vice President: Marylin Mauro
Secretary: Betty Tamburello
Treasurer: Fred Hahn

Our freshman football squad became the first team in the history of North Arlington High School to be defeated by the Asiatic Flu. Another highlight was Pink Champagne, our freshman dance, organized by Mr. Farber and Miss Pulas. The job of securing longer lunch periods was, and still is, one of the major aims at North Arlington High School. The honor of being the youngest girl on the cheering squad was bestowed upon Marylin Mauro, when she energetically tried out and was successfully chosen for the squad. Many of our girls also made the marching and the twirlers' squads in the same year. Susan Rosenberg was a very happy girl as a $25 winner in the annual magazine campaign when her name was drawn from a hat at one of the assemblies.

Dissecting frogs in biology class marked the beginning of our sophomore year. Many squeals were heard from the girls as the work of dissecting began, but a trip to the Bronx Zoo and Botanical Gardens compensated in some way for the agony of the ordeal. Preparations for our sophomore dance, Rainbow Mist, were formulated by class officers:

President: Ronald Tornwall
Vice President: Marylin Mauro
Secretary: Janet Myles
Treasurer: Fred Hahn

With the help of Miss Pulas, who has since left the faculty of North Arlington High School, this dance proved to be quite a success. Will we ever forget Mr. Kelly's sophomore English class and the humor brought about by Al Einsidler's foolish jokes? A sure sign of spring was the appearance of Mr. Flimlin's "white bucks" in school. Under the supreme direction of Coach Ruckel, assisted by Coach Collins, the Vikings once again rode right to the top in the state ranking second in the finals of the Group II basketball tournament. Our school spirits were increased with the election of Elaine Mattos and Vicky Fisher to the cheering squad.

"Who says females are the weaker sex?" When polio shots were administered, Ronnie Maver passed out, and, not to be outdone by Ronnie, Donald Shepherd followed suit. Climaxing our sophomore year, was the selection and the ordering of class rings which indicated that we had reached the mid-point of our high school careers.

Since we were waiting for the plans for the new addition to our school to be completed, our junior year at North Arlington proved to be the most challenging. Offsetting our inconveniences, was our joy in receiving our rings at the end of the first month of the new school year. Under the leadership of Mrs. Steffens, Stairway to the Stars, with its many unusual and beautiful decorations, was presented to the student body. This was, in our opinion, one of the most successful dances that has ever been put on in our school. We must pause a moment to give thanks to Rev. Eastwick for the use of his church for this dance. No one can ever forget Mr. Nielsen's sixth period English class in which we enjoyed literature, a subject very dear to our hearts. Headed by Miss Genovese, the Junior Career Conferences helped to inform us of the career possibilities which we might pursue. After diligent work and concentration, Carole Stein and Billy Georgs were the lucky recipients of first place career paper awards. "Artie, do you remember the embarrassing situation that you encountered when you were thrown out of the boys' locker room?" With the month of May nearing, we were all gripped with the excitement of the approaching Junior-Senior Prom. All juniors were seen running around frantically in a daze making last minute arrangements for the coming event. The Hawaiian Palms was the setting of another most successful prom. Another contribution from our class to the activities of N.A.H.S. was the addition of Lee Lawson and Judy Brooks to the cheering squad. With pep and vigor, these girls helped to bring about spirit on the athletic field. So, with the close of our junior year, we realized that we were to enjoy our last summer of freedom.

Our junior class officers were as follows:

President: Fred Hahn
Vice President; Al Einsiedler
Secretary: Janet Myles
Treasurer: Judy Reider

As we entered our last year at North Arlington High School, we still had many hardships to encounter with the new addition to the building not quite finished. Even the "big-brave" seniors were found getting lost on their way to classes. The one pleasure that compensated for this was the fact we were now the leaders of the school. The senior girls, under the direction of Judy Brooks, presented a very successful card party to the citizens of North Arlington. This was the first card party of this type, and could not have been possible if it was not for Judy's tireless efforts. Wonderland by Nite, our senior dance, was presented under the direction of class officers:

President: Fred Hahn
Vice President: Catherine Jacobson
Secretary: Susan Rosenberg
Treasurer: Hank Kosakowski
Historian: Barbara Sabatino

This affair was thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended it. After our mid-year examinations, with the assistance of Mrs. Lulfs, we made plans for winding up our senior year activities. With the aid of Mr. Richard Nielson and Mrs. Steffens, we staged our hilarious senior play, "Guys and Dolls" in May. Following a most enjoyable and profitable trip to Washington, D.C. in May, we realized all too soon that our next social gathering would be in preparation for leaving N.A.H.S. Class Night, at which our parents were guests, was a most entertaining and impressive affair.

Graduation, bringing with it, the combined feeling of joy and sorrow, occurred on June 27. Here at last, we were left on the threshold of life facing the future, confidently anticipating our fate.

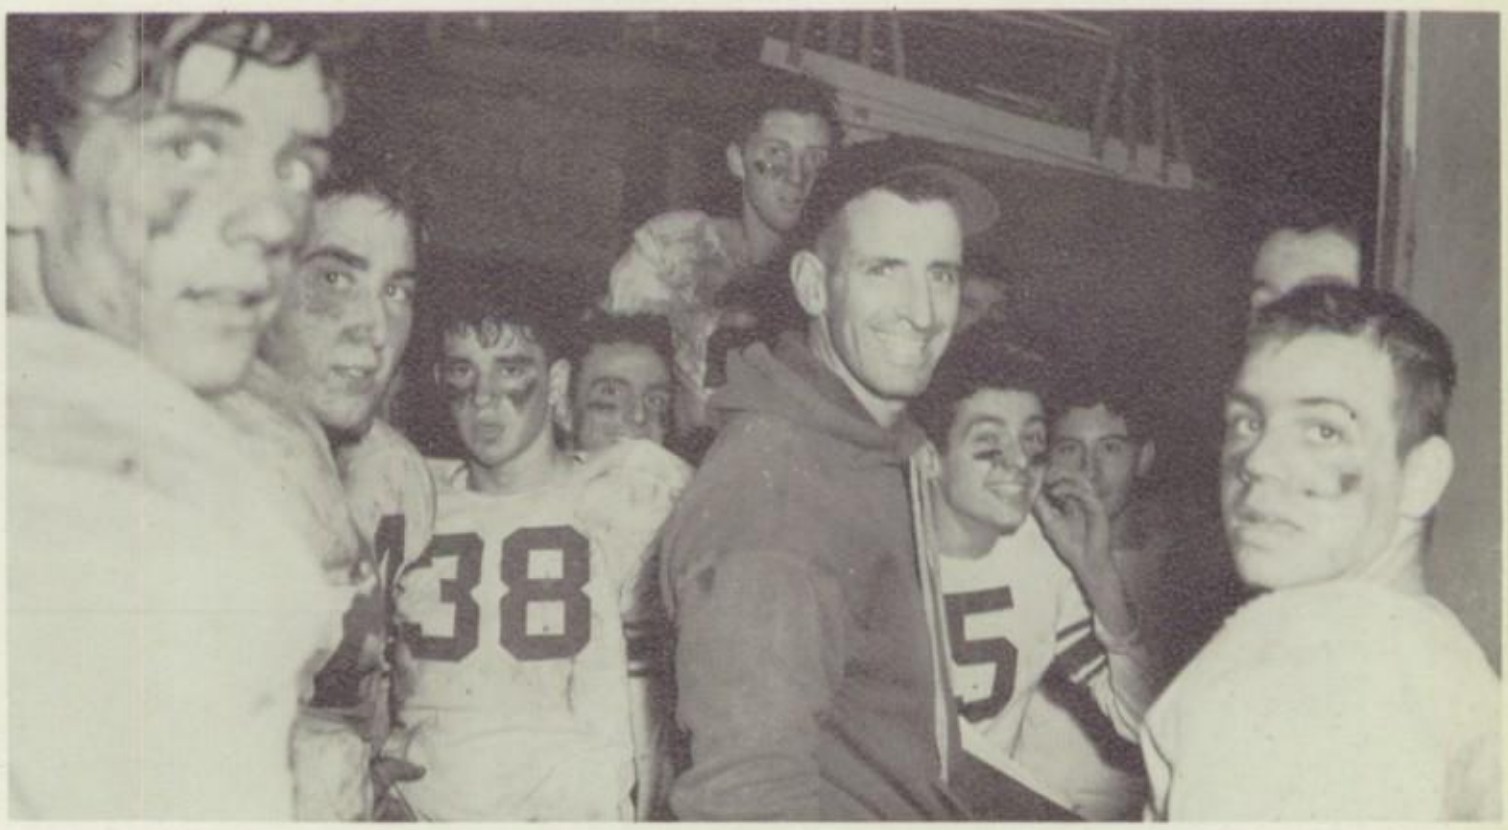
1961 VIKINGS

"George" and "Arnie" get timely tips from low priced three.

Although the 1960 North Arlington High School football team sported a record of 3 wins and 5 defeats, the play on the gridiron was far superior to what the record indicated. The North Jersey Conference record of three wins and four losses enabled the Blue and White to finish in fourth place in the "first division". The first Viking win came against Mountain Lakes by a 13-7 count. Then the Narls dropped several tight games, including a close 12-6 loss to heavily-favored Wood-Ridge. These games were a good omen of things to come as the Vikings crushed Park Ridge and Wallington by respective 34-7 and 53-0 scores to close the season.

Seniors on the squad were co-captains Jerry Sica and Jim Richardson; most valuable player Hank Kosakowski; Don Betz, and Frank Zardezed.

If Coach Paul Kelley can find adequate replacements for the departing seniors, with the solid core of returning lettermen, the team should roll up an impressive record for next year.



HEISSMANN DINNER

JV AND FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

North Arlington's Junior Varsity Basketball Team, coached by Edwin "Rip" Collins, garnered a record of ten wins and seven defeats this season. With a North Jersey Conference mark of ten wins and four losses, the squad placed second in the unofficial standings. Providing the nucleus of the "Jay-vee's" were Paul Burgess, Gary Rein, George Theobold, Ed McGroarty, and Lyle Leeson.

Under the able coaching of Mr. John Gray, the 1960-1961 Freshman Basketball Team enjoyed a successful season. Boasting of a record of twelve wins and five defeats in scheduled games, the Frosh went on to capture the Queen of Peace Christmas Basketball Tournament. The key players were Larry Venancio, John Boyle, Rod Rud, Tom Niemas, and Larry McKeoron.

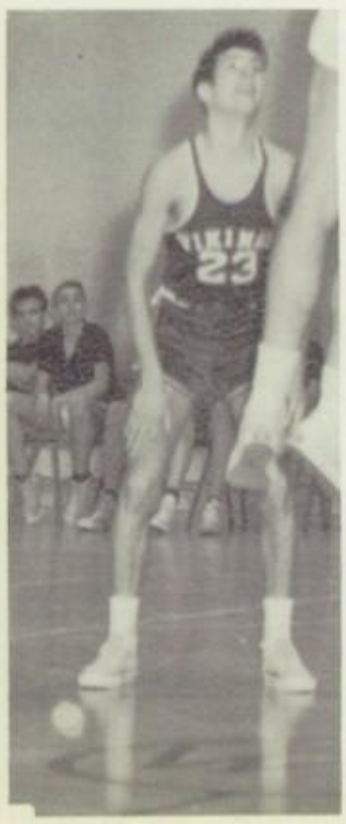
BASKETBALL

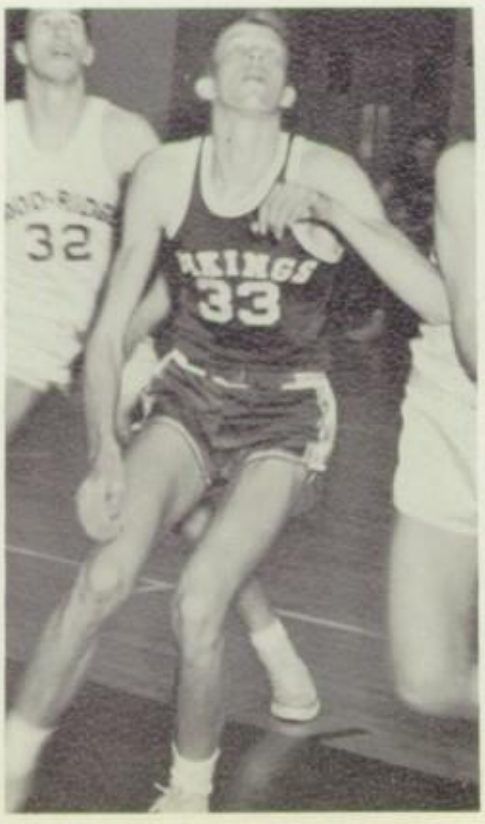
VARSITY BASKETBALL

In almost traditional fashion, the 1960-1961 edition of the Varsity Vikings succeeded in capturing the North Jersey Group I championship in the N.J.S.I.A.A., bowing later, however, to a stronger and more experienced Wildwood team in the state championship finals at Princeton.

Victors in games against Wood-Ridge, Ridgefield, and New Providence, the Blue and White, sparked by Captain Don Betz, the only veteran letterman, came along to prove themselves a strong, hard fighting, spirited aggregation. Junior scoring sensation Dan Hesford contributed to the squad's offensive punch, while Joe Mellino, junior, and Arnie Felsenfeld and Paul Sullivan, sophomores, sparkled in all-around play. Reserve strength was effectively supplied by Art Truska, senior, and Marty Rosenberg and Bill Sullivan of the junior class.

Coach Wilbur Buckel's combine finished the season with a record of fourteen wins and seven defeats. Viking fans may look for even better play next year with only two lettermen lost by graduation.

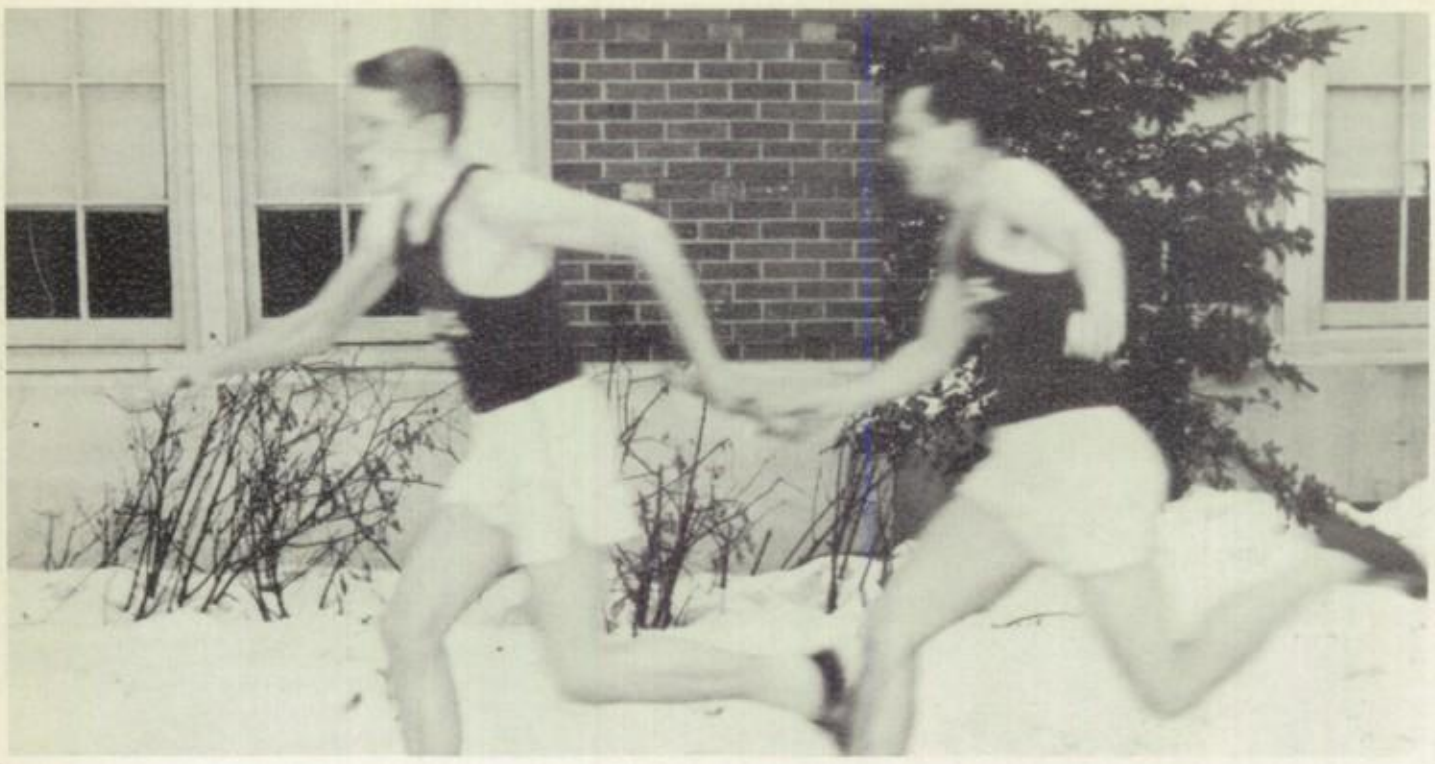




1961 VIKINGS

BASEBALL

With few experienced lettermen from last year's Nine, the 1961 North Arlington Varsity Baseball Team faced a season of rebuilding. Head coach John Gray's task was to mold the team around the nucleus of returnées Captain Hank Sorce, Ron Tornwall, and Hank Kosakowski, seniors; Joe Mellino, junior: and Nick Pappagallo, sophomore. Rounding out the young squad were Juniors Harry Sommers, Ted Chletsos, and Nick DiGiacomo; and Sophomores Arnie Felsenfeld, Gary Rein, Norman Erb, Ed McGroarty, and Dick Kearney.



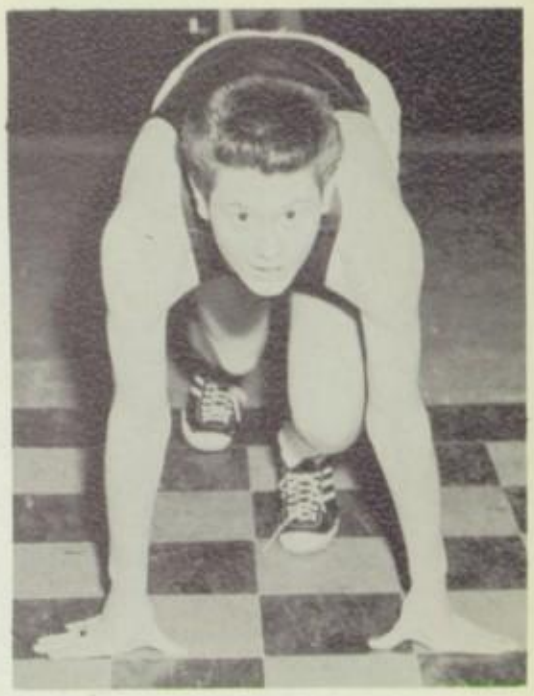
Sica hands off to Einsiedler at practice.

1961 VIKINGS

TRACK

Head Coach—MR. MICHAEL P. PRASCHAK
Assistant Coach—MR. PAUL J. KELLEY

As the 1961 Outdoor Track season approached, the big question was whether or not the Viking cindermen would have adequate replacements for some of the squad members lost through graduation. However, early season performances indicated that the replacements were available. When scheduled meets were lost, it was obvious to track fans that lack of squad depth, rather than lack of quality performances, was responsible.



Highlights of the season were trips to the Penn Relays in Philadelphia, the Bergen County Championships, the Long Branch Relays, the Booster Meet, the North Jersey Conference Championships, and the State Championships, in which the North Arlington team was a credit to the school.

Last Will and Testament

We, the class of 1961, being of supposedly sound mind and body, do hereby bequeath the following incidentals to the people who have made high school an enjoyable and informative time of our lives. . .

To MRS. DAVIDSON and MRS. CAPWELL we leave our heartfelt appreciation for their patience and understanding.

To future classes the Class of 1961 leaves its dexterity and agility in hurdling boards, dodging pipes and construction workers, skills acquired while our new addition was underway.

To MR. COLLINS we leave a quiet cafeteria.

To MR. FLIMLIN we leave a new lab . . . well broken in.

To MRS. LULFS we leave . . . still participating.

To MRS. STEFFENS we leave boxes of well used jump ropes.

To MR. WARREN we leave directions for tranquilizers.

JO ANN BENEDETTO leaves, hoping never to see the boys' locker room again.

RONNY CARUSO leaves his speeding record to be broken.

EDIE DISTEL leaves her nails to a defenseless girl.

MAUREEN DUPONT leaves her aggressive enthusiasm for the sale of yearbook advertisements.

BEVERLY leaves heading EAST.

AL EINSIEDLER leaves in the direction of KEARNEY.

TOM GORSE leaves his history debates.

FRED HAHN leaves quiet-LEE.

BARBARA JORGENSON leaves after initiating the new lab.

KAREN KELLY leaves with a scalpel in hand.

ELAINE MILLIGAN leaves her embarrassed giggle.

GINA MONTESANO leaves her "Pepsodent" smile.

JOAN PARKER leaves her sweaters to a girl who can't knit.

JUDY REIDER leaves her blush, hoping it's for good.

JIM RICHARDSON leaves his well-polished shoes.

SUE ROSENBERG leaves her little sister to MR. PRASCHAK.

REG SAVOY leaves his dance routine to JOE GERVASI.

CAROLE STEIN leaves her wardrobe to a junior girl.

ARTIE TRUSKA leaves his rabies to any foolish dog lover.

GAIL WEISSMAN leaves with another burst of enthusiasm.

MARJORIE WHITTAL leaves her strut behind her.

The other members of the CLASS OF 1961 leave wishes for success in both the present and the future.
